

In the autumn and winter of each year, the UNCITRAL Secretariat has been co-hosting the UNCITRAL Day, a series of events with universities, other institutions of higher learning and public agencies in Asia and the Pacific and in Latin America and the Caribbean.

The events celebrate the establishment of UNCITRAL – the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law - as a UN agency with a worldwide remit to harmonise international commercial law, to facilitate international commerce and support economic and social development.

UNCITRAL together with its partners is now pleased to announce the launch of the UNCITRAL Days project in Africa!

SAVE THE DATE

 27 May 2022

for the launch event of the

INAUGURAL UNCITRAL DAYS IN AFRICA

in Accra, Ghana and online via Zoom

Join us :

- to hear a message to future leaders in international trade law, from the UNCITRAL Chairman, H.E. Mr. Philbert Abaka Johnson
- to learn about UNCITRAL's engagement in Africa and the relevance of UNCITRAL in the African context from regional and international organizations, universities and the UNCITRAL Secretariat, and
- to learn how universities can take part in UNCITRAL Days in Africa, and what they and their students can derive from the events

Click [\[here\]](#) for further details on the launch event and academic events

Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Regional Integration, Flat 5 Agostino Neto Rd, Airport residential Area, Accra, GHANA

