The project was launched in 2021, conferring on the Secretariat the mandate to monitor the changing landscape of dispute resolution in the digital economy by compiling, analyzing and sharing relevant information with a view to laying the groundwork for possible work on updating UNCITRAL texts or developing new ones as necessary. Particular attention is given to the disruptive aspects of digitalization in dispute resolution, especially to due process and fairness. It also focuses on the enabling aspects of technology particularly as the impact on efficiency (e.g., cost and duration).
