A. CONTEXT AND JUSTIFICATION OF THE SYMPOSIUM

Investment arbitration or Investor State Arbitration is one of the main mechanisms for resolving disputes between Foreign Investor(s) and host state(s).

It should be noted that in recent years investment arbitration has been the subject of much criticism. Several states consider it, as an imbalanced mechanism only in favour of foreign investors. Investment arbitration is therefore at the centre of many movements and sharp criticisms.

It is in the light of these criticisms that the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL) decide to undertake, on the occasion of its 50th session held in Vienna (Austria) from the 3 to 21 July 2017, work on a possible reform of the Investor-State Dispute Settlement (ISDS) system.

In spite of the criticisms directed against Investor State Arbitration, the OHADA, nevertheless included Investment arbitration in the materiel scope of its arbitration system at the time of the reform of the system on November 23 and 24, 2017.

Therefore, in a context marked by discussions on the reform of the Investor State Dispute Settlement (ISDS) system and the introduction of Investment arbitration in the materiel scope of OHADA arbitration, it is important that States, practitioners and other Africans primarily concerned by this dispute settlement mechanism, understand the issues related to ISDS reform and know how to better organize their defence when they are involved in arbitration proceedings concerning foreign rather than local investments.

B. SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES OF THE SYMPOSIUM

The purpose of the symposium is to expose the issues related to ISDS reform but also to see how the new OHADA instruments related to arbitration and mediation can contribute to the effective resolution of investment disputes in the OHADA area. More specifically, the symposium aims to:

1. Present the framework for the settlement of investment disputes in the OHADA area;
2. Expose the issues related to the ISDS reform;
3. Demonstrate the importance of training in the settlement of investment disputes in particular, and in ADR in general

C. TARGET AUDIENCE

The present symposium is for:

1. Senior Government officers in charge of State litigation and African legal bodies governed by public law dealings or called to deal with international litigation;
2. Judges, Lawyers, Court officers;
3. Economic operators;

5. Researchers, students specialising in the area of international litigation.
